

TRIGGER

It's time for release 7. Trigger, a FFX-2 doujin by Studio Warabi. You'll notice I've started using stuff like "Fuahh!" for moans simply because it's a total pain in the ass thinking up english equivalents for moaning sounds so I left them more or less true to the Japanese sound, only I spelled it out in english so you could read em... If you don't know what the hell "fuahh" sounds like, watch some hentai!

A small translation note regarding this doujin. Yuna NEVER calls Tidus by his actual name... I'm guessing this might be based on the fact that they never ever called Tidus by his name in FFX-2 since you could change his name to be whatever you wanted in FFX. If you never noticed that, I don't blame you. That sorta thing tends to slip right by you... I was thinking of putting "Tidus" in at certain points simply because it would have simplified the translation for me but I managed to keep his name out of there for better or for worse.

Also, you'll notice I changed the font. I'm just testing the waters right now to see if I can find a better font. Chances are this new font ain't gonna stick. I'll try to find something better. You can leave me feedback about it on hongfire or on the doujin-world comment boards(yes, I read em).

Moving right along... I scanned in about 10 doujins over the easter weekend from series such as Gundam Seed, FMA, Resident Evil, Xenosaga, Scryed, Jubei-chan, .Hack//dusk, and DoAX. I still have to chop em up before I can start editing em but in the future you can look forward to seeing my name down below as raw provider on top of everything else. It won't be very soon though. I still have a handful of doujins sitting in limbo right now so I'll get those done first.
